FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

SPATIALinfo Announces Reseller Agreement with Angus GeoSolutions Inc.

Industry leaders join forces to provide comprehensive utility solution

ENGLEWOOD, Colo., and HALTON HILLS, Ontario, September 10, 2009—SPATIALinfo, a leading provider of network management software, announced today an exclusive reseller agreement with AGSI that provides best-in-class information management, GIS, and Operations solutions for utilities. The agreement allows AGSI to resell spatialNET as part of the GO360™ enterprise solution, offering a comprehensive solution for utilities.

“AGSI is extremely pleased to offer and support organizations with the SPATIALinfo design and engineering platform. Our GO360™ enterprise solutions combined with the SPATIALinfo suite provide advanced, open, and cost effective ways for organizations to move forward into the next generation of technology and Smart Grid based integrated operations.” said AGSI Chief Executive Officer and President Chris Cameron.

SpatialNET and GO360™ operate seamlessly together, allowing a maximization of utility design and engineering, GIS as well as new feature implementations solely focused on the utility industry. In addition to the GO360™ product suite, AGSI offers an industry leading sales, support and professional services team. As a result of the partnership, AGSI also assumes responsibility for support and implementation services related to SPATIALinfo’s utilities industry products.

“We are pleased that with this partnership, SPATIALinfo can increase the level and quality of our offering to our utility customers,” said SPATIALinfo Chief Executive Officer Greg Foster. “AGSI’s in-depth utility experience provides us with a strong partner that will directly benefit our customers’ satisfaction while protecting their product investment.”
